

JACKSON COUNTY SENTINEL

VOL. 20, No. 26

GAINESBORO, TENN., THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1918

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

RULES RELATING TO WHEAT ISSUED

New Regulations Prescribed by Food Administration.

Flour, sugar and fish—three very excellent and desirable articles of food, as all will agree—from the basis of a bulletin received Monday by B. L. Quarles, County Food Administrator, from H. A. Morgan, Federal Food Administrator for Tennessee. The bulletin on wheat as may imagined, is directed more especially to farmers, while the other communication takes a whack at fish dynamiters. All dynamiters, naturally, are undesirable citizens, but any one who seeks to curtail the fish supply at present by wantonly exploding dynamite in the streams of the country deserve to be thrown into the same stream with a chunk of lead tied securely about his neck, so the food men declare, and their position is shared by the rank and file of the public-spirited people.

The bulletin on farmers' exchange milling regulations follows:

"As to farmers' wheat next year we wish to support the whole idea of farmers raising their own supply of flour, until the National wheat supply is definitely determined and the allied necessities are likewise arrived at, we cannot lay down a National program. As a temporary basis we believe the following is the best coordination of all views in Southern States. Farmers may draw supply of flour from the milling or exchange of their own wheat for the three months to October 1st. They should not draw this from mills in excess of 12 pounds of flour per person per month for use by their household and tenants, and they should continue in respect to substitute on the present basis until we change general substitute program for the entire country."

This simply means:

1. Farmers, in exchange for 1918 wheat grown on land owned leased or cultivated by them, may draw from mills a 3 months supply of flour to October 1st at the rate not to exceed 12 pounds per person per month.
2. All persons other than farmers as defined in paragraph 1, are limited to a thirty days supply of flour either by purchase or by exchange grinding at the rate of 12 pounds per person per month.
3. This does not release retailers, farmers or any other consumers from the 50-50 substitute regulation.
4. This does not effect bakers' substitute regulations.

Yours very truly,
H. A. Morgan.

OUR BOYS "WITH THE COLORS"

Camp Jackson,
June 18, 1918.

Dear Editor:

Having a short time to spare I will take advantage of it and write you again and my friends in Jackson county.

I am improving in my army work, especially in making up my bed. I can do this job in two minutes and it will pass inspection, which is doing well.

There is only one thing I dislike about the army, and that is washing my own dishes. I am always afraid I will break my plate or cup, you know they are always crowded.

I received a letter from my girl the other day, and she claimed Sunday was the best day for her. All the way I can tell when Sunday comes here, is by the ice cream that is served us boys.

A soldier don't get to stay at one place very long. Anywhere he hangs his hat is where he makes his home. He is always ready to be transferred, as he thinks he will strike a better spot in the army.

I think of all back at home often, and wonder what you are doing these long summer evenings. Of course I can picture to some extent what you are doing, but things change so rapidly and we are so many miles apart that I may miss my guess. I miss my big soft bed, my late nap of a morning, with the breakfast following. Say, how does a hot biscuit taste, I can hardly remember. But never mind about these things I will make up for them some day. It's our duty now, as soldiers, to think of only one thing—winning the war, which we will do.

I hope all my friends and loved ones are well and enjoying good health. My fondest hope and prayer is, that mother will keep in good health while I am away, and will find you all well and happy on my return. Don't for a minute worry about me, for I am alright and never felt better in my life, and am getting so fat that I am ashamed of myself. As for as being in danger now, or in the future, this is to be expected, but we are in the hands of God, and His will be done not ours. My worry is of mother and not of myself, for I have a 50-50 chance and no man could ask for more. I am coming back to see you some day, just remember that.

My prayer is that each day we grow stronger and wiser; and use us to convince the Kaiser of his sins, and hasten the day when this war will cease, bringing to nations everlasting peace.

Melvin Forkum,
14th Co., 4th Tr. Bn.
156 Depot Brigade.

Camp Pike, Ark.
June 21, 1918.

Dear Editor:

With your permission I write a short article for publication.

I am in Camp Pike and getting along fine. We are having plenty of good things to eat, and are keep busy at work. I do not mind the work, for I have always been accustomed to it.

There are a number of Jackson county boys here and they are doing fine. Clifton Apple is on guard duty for tonight. Eugene Chaffin is writing a letter to his girl. Smith Stidham is taking a bath. Lawrence Oakley returned from the hospital yesterday. Monroe Richardson sends his best wishes and kindest regards to all his friends. Bill Garrison has a bad headache I think caused from crying. Will Cox said to tell his girl he was coming to see her as soon as he returned from France.

There is only one trouble we have had since entering the army, and that is we move so often. I have made my home in three different barracks during the three weeks I have been in the army. Now you may think we don't pay our rent, but that isn't it, we are cleaning up the barracks for the other boys that are coming. If any more Jackson county boys come here they will find it a good place and they will sure like it.

My friends at Nameless should be here and hear our quartette. The boys are singing now, and it is sure fine. Believe me we have some swell vocal music in this camp.

Before closing I have a request to make of Vaden Wheeler and Edna Brown. We soldier boys are always anxious to hear from home and want you to write the news from Nameless to the Sentinel each week. Do this and I will keep you informed on what we do in camp, and tell about my new rifle that was issued to me yesterday, and the one which I intend going "over the top" with when I reach France. I will tell you how far it shoots and how many Germans I get when I return.

Camp Pike, Ark.
June 20, 1918.

Dear Editor:

After a pleasant trip I arrived at Camp Pike, which is a much nicer place than I expected to find in Arkansas.

I was lucky enough to be assigned to a company that has seven or eight Jackson county boys in it and five or six Overton county boys. All are nice fellows.

I think I'll like the army much better when we get out of quarantine, as we have been under it ever since we came here, except two days. We are now under for meals.

Inf. Pepl. Camp.

Dear Editor:

I am now in Arkansas where the sun is hot enough to cook a lizard, and the sand blows until it has about put my eyes out.

I understand we Tennessee boys are going to be moved from this camp in July, and I hope how soon.

I am getting along fine, with the exception of a shot in the back every week.

They have all the boys from Jackson county separated, except six or seven in this barracks. I hope the boys in the next draft from Jackson county will be sent somewhere else besides Ark.

I would like to hear from all my friends in Jackson county. When this you see just think of me a soldier boy from Tennessee.

Robert H. Jones,
45th Co., Inf. Replacement Camp.

Dear Mr. Tardy:

Suppose you thought I had forgotten to write you, but they keep us recruits so busy that we have hardly any time to write.

I was in the applicants camp for a few days, but am now in a company and am liking it fine.

I don't think there is any doubt about the Marines being the best branch of the service. We have good food, good quarters and a much better bunch of fellows than you would expect, so there is no reason why we shouldn't like it, except the hard work, which we may not like, but is the best thing in the world for us.

Will write you again in a few days when I have more time. I only caught about five minutes off and must be out directly.

Give my regards to everybody. Sincerely, your friend,
John W. Reeves,

Dear Editor:

This is to notify you that I have changed my company address. My new address is Co. 2, 1st Regiment, Replacement Troops.

I have received my uniform and equipment, and am liking army life fine. Will write more when I have time.

W. C. Whitaker.

NOTICE—The Sentinel takes great pleasure in publishing letters from our soldiers, and request their relatives or friends to send in letters received from them. Everybody enjoys reading these letters, and we hope to receive a number each week. Remember the boys who sent in their address are receiving the Sentinel free. They enjoy hearing from each other thru the paper.

Owing to my physical condition and my limited means by which to travel, I feel sure I can not get to meet you all personally, and am taking advantage of this opportunity of thanking you in advance, and assuring you that your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely Yours,
Garland Jackson.

Martha Jackson is visiting her father-in-law.

You soldier boys come on with the camp news your letters are interesting. This war is terrible and has brought sorrow and unhappiness to many homes. May God bless those on the battle field serving their country. How happy we will all be when they all come home.
